

RUM RAID HERE TOUCHED FALLS

Pappas, Manager of the Majestic Inn, Is Arraigned
ALBANO AND STATZ LET GO

Commissioner Rules Out Evidence Taken from Man's Pocket

The activities of the federal agents under the direction of the Rev. Henry E. Fisher, who with the police raided six places in this city Tuesday, extended to Wappingers Falls. It was learned Thursday.

James Pappas, manager of the Majestic Inn in that village, was one of the defendants arraigned before United States Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly at Kingston Wednesday. Mr. Pappas, who formerly managed the St. Regis Restaurant and the Triangle Cafeteria in this city, is charged with possessing alleged liquor and his case, as are the cases of Peter A. Lovelock and his bartender, William Hays, of 219 Main Street, was adjourned until February 19 for a further hearing.

Frank Albano and his employee, Wilbert Statz, were discharged by the commissioner Wednesday when he learned that the evidence against them had been taken from Mr. Statz's pocket by the agent who made the arrest. Commissioner Connelly held this to be improper and dismissed the charge against them.

CREW OF ANTINOE SAVED FROM SEAS

"President Roosevelt" Successful
In Launching Boat to Steamer
Pounding on Rocks

New York, Jan. 28 (A. P.)—The sea and human heroism have broken even in the rescue of the crew of the Antinoe, a small freighter, from the sea.

The "President Roosevelt," her commander, Captain George Fried, was seen by the Antinoe's crew, who had been struggling for days, and had returned her way to Cherbourg tonight, with the whole crew of 25 men from the wrecked and helpless Antinoe, freighter or Antinoe, aboard.

The rescue was the captain's victory. A few hundred miles to the north and west, some of wreckage on the still turbulent Atlantic sea evidence of the battle the sea won. They are all that is left of the Antinoe, also a British freighter, which went down with her captain and 25 men.

The Roosevelt completed her victory early this morning by the light of a moon which came out propitiously during a brief lull in the ninety mile gale. An open boat from the Roosevelt, commanded by Chief Officer Miller, took the "Antinoe" men from the Antinoe. They were exhausted from hunger and battered by the waves. Earlier, Captain George Fried of the Roosevelt had witnessed the rescue of the first twelve of the crew, but said the others had to be left aboard "because they were too weak to risk jumping into the sea."

Captain Fried had stood by the Antinoe since Sunday. Early this morning he got a "blinker" code message from the 12 left aboard saying the ship was listing fifty degrees and could not stay up any longer. Though the gale had abated a little, heavy swells were running, and the waves were high. Nevertheless the Roosevelt launched its sixth lifeboat.

A little later her wireless operator sent a message to the home office of the United States Lines saying they were "on the way to Cherbourg" again, regretting the loss of two of the crew who were drowned in an earlier attempt to reach the Antinoe, and leaving the freighter still afloat, "a serious menace to navigation."

OLYMPIC BATTLES STORM IN ATLANTIC

Wireless Messages Declares Report
That Ship Was in Distress,
Was Not Founded on Fact

New York, Jan. 28.—(A. P.)—The White Star liner Olympic tonight continued her way across the stormy Atlantic, unharmed by the storm, and unaffected by the erroneous radio report that the liner was in distress.

At 10:54 a. m. today Captain William Marshall, of the Olympic, sent a message to the Associated Press reporting his position as 105 miles west of the Azores, and at noon another message to the local office of the White Star Line saying he was then 325 miles west of Cherbourg in both messages Captain Marshall said "all well. Making 21 knots."

PROPOSED LEGISLATION DISCUSSED AT MEETING

The subjects of state legislation on the standard for butter fat and the tariff on dairy products were discussed at the meeting of the Dutchess County Holstein Breeders' Association in the T Market Thursday afternoon. A campaign for home grown dairy products was spoken of by A. L. Shepherd, manager of the Dutchess County Farm Bureau.

Reports were given by F. J. Chaffee, director of the New York State Holstein Association and J. Fred Hens, who represented the county association at a state meeting in Syracuse recently.

Warren, Budapest and Prague are among the world's most important air terminals.

Ohio City in Turmoil At Proposed Dance Ban

Mayor William E. Grall

(Exclusive Dispatch Copyright, 1929) Lorain, O., Jan. 28.—(E.P.S.)—No steel crucible in this city of steel mills is at whiter heat today than the city itself. Lorain is boiling over.

Every one of its 50,000 people, old enough to think, is thinking heatedly about one thing—the city council's action in placing a ban on every modern dance and ordaining that old-fashioned dances alone shall be allowed in Lorain dance halls.

There is no one here who hasn't an opinion on one side or the other. The city has been split into pro-modern and anti-modern—every other distinction of race, social status, wealth or creed has been dropped for the time.

There's much talk of getting an injunction against the city fathers to prevent them from putting the enactment into effect. There's talk of getting the ban declared unconstitutional. Shipping and steel, the two industries that give this city life, have had to yield in importance to the dancing fray.

The dispute—the greatest sensation this has had since a tornado leveled it in 1924—was precipitated when, upon motion of Councilman J. Glava, the council announced that an ordinance is planned which will forbid dancing within the city limits of Lorain the Charleston, fox trot, one step—or any dance except those which Henry Ford is seeking to revive.

"The dances indulged in these days," said Councilman Glava, "are vile and indecent. They are ruining the younger generation."

And Councilman W. T. Shaw supported Glava by declaring his conviction that the square dance, Virginia reel, quadrille, schottische, and old-style waltz should be the only dances permitted in this Great Lakes harbor city.

And the remaining members of the council indicated they would support the measure.

Then the uproar broke.

Units of the Federation of Women's Clubs here in the main support the council's action. So do some clergymen. The local Women's Christian Temperance Union likewise declares its sympathy with the ban.

Opponents Strong, Too.

But some civic organizations are putting up vigorous resistance and another body of clergymen are with them on the opposition.

"I'm for it," says Roy Blake, Lorain's outstanding exponent of old-fashioned dances. "The ban will help muzzle some of these sheiks who come to a dance with chewing gum in one pocket and brass knuckles in the other."

"I'm against the ban," says E. G. Teckley, manufacturer, prominent in local circles. "I wouldn't be surprised now if they'd pass laws providing for the burning of witches."

Pastor Against Ban.

The Rev. J. W. Hayward, pastor of an Episcopalian church here, says he believes modern dances are all right and that the council might far better work along other lines.

But, opposition or no opposition, the law is going to be enforced. If it passes, says Mayor William E. Grall, "if necessary, I'll put deputies in every dance hall in town."

"I'm convinced the modern dance is responsible for most of the juvenile delinquency in Lorain."

MRS. JOHNSON SUCCEEDS BROWN IN S. P. C. A. POST

"The general public seem to think that the organization is of unlimited means and that it can give its personal attention without slight delay to every complaint registered with the society. It would be well for the community at large to realize that we have only one full time officer to take care of all the duties in the City of Poughkeepsie, and also to cover the whole county. It is difficult to make them realize that if our officer is in the county somewhere taking care of some dumb animal, that he should also be in the city to take care of complaints here. I believe, if they knew this matter they would be more patient and I believe it is they know the extent of our limited means they would realize that we are unable to destroy every cat and dog which they would like to have destroyed when the owner of that particular cat or dog is financially able to take care of the matter himself."

Should Have Support.

"If the public would only realize that the dues are part of our financial support and that the dues consist of only $1.00 a year, I believe every lover of dumb animals would immediately obtain membership in this organization."

FITZGERALD ARRESTED

William Fitzgerald, 16, of Stamford, Conn., was arrested here Thursday afternoon by Under Sheriff George W. Davis on a charge of vagrancy. He was lodged in the county jail and will be arraigned this morning before City Judge John B. Grubb.

PEPITO'S CLOWN TRICKS MAKE HIT AT BARDAVON

Pepito, who appears at the Bardavon Theater this week, is not merely a clown, nor merely a Spanish clown. He should be called the Clown de Luxe. For no opportunity is lost to make his stage setting unusual and effective. When the curtain goes up on an African desert and reveals a Zulu standing beside a real lion, one becomes interested. Interest turns to amusement when the lion ambles away and reveals that the noble form of the king of beasts extends only to his neck and that the rest of him is a shaggy colt's dog. But the amusement keeps up throughout the act, for while Pepito is not the funniest comedian on the stage today, he is a versatile one. His imitations are the funniest part of the act, but it's no small stunt that he does when he stages a bicycle act and rides a bike not much bigger than a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles. Pretty girls in Spanish costumes, who play the maracas, the cornet and the clarinet, and the aforementioned Zulu add variety to the act.

Wira acts are not, as a rule, anything to talk about for a week, but none better is to be seen anywhere than the Emma Raymond Company, not only because of the stunts performed by Miss Raymond, but because of the feats of strength performed by the men.

SHEPHERD SPEAKS TO EXCHANGE CLUB

Manager of Farm Bureau Explains
Work Done by Organization;
Minstrel Show Planned

An interesting outline of the work of the Dutchess County Farm Bureau Association was given the members of the Exchange Club at the meeting Thursday night in the Nelson House by A. L. Shepherd, manager of the association, who was the guest of the club. Committees were appointed to arrange for a minstrel show, dance and a ladies' night.

Mr. Shepherd explained that the land in the Hudson River Valley has been farmed for about one hundred years longer than most of the land in other parts of the state and that as a result of this there are many more old problems for the farmer in Dutchess County to face. The speaker said that on the whole the farming industry of Dutchess County is slipping with the exception of orchards, which seem to be holding their own.

"The matter of farming," said Mr. Shepherd, "while not of much evident importance to Poughkeepsie business men, should, however, be given careful consideration, because the farther we go for our food the more we must pay for it. While there are just as many farms in Dutchess County as there ever were, they are being used for other purposes, such as country clubs, institutions and golf courses."

"It is the work of the Dutchess County Farm Bureau Association to maintain these industries that are slipping by showing the farmer how to carry on his work in the most profitable way and interesting the children in agriculture."

The committee on the minstrel show is composed of Walter J. Spruce, chairman; Joseph Molloy, Albert Snyder, George Cross and Raymond Oeborke. This committee will arrange a date and other details for the show. Mr. Frey was named chairman of the committee on a dance and will be assisted by G. Reick, R. Jackson, H. Hebert and W. C. Knierleman. The Ladies' Night committee is composed of E. Sweet, chairman, Chalmers Strain and Mr. Solomon.

The speaker was introduced by R. G. McKenna. The next meeting will be in charge of Mr. Strain. Thursday night there was an attendance of almost 100 per cent.

SURROGATE ADMITS WILL OF J. L. FRITZ

The will of John L. Fritz, of this city, who died January 12, was admitted to probate Thursday by Surrogate Daniel J. Gleason, and at the same time, a petition for letters of administration was made by Margaret May Gilbert in the estate of William C. Fritz, who died January 18 and was a nephew of John L. Fritz.

The estate of John L. Fritz is valued at about $7,000 and is left to the widow, Mrs. Minnie Fritz.

Mrs. Gilbert is a sister of William C. Fritz who asserts that the only other heir is Pearl Fritz, of 1555 Macombs Road, New York.

much like an old story, any story for that matter, by Mary Jane Holmes or Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth and those who like their novels will rejoice in the picture.

Francis X. Bushman, Jr., appears in the comedy, "Always in the Lead," and travels some of Fairbanks' picture in his exploits as a dashing American in the land of dogs and duennas.
